Brown Elected President of Collaborative Practice San Diego, New Board Installed

The Collaborative Practice San Diego has Elected Elizabeth Brown as Their New President.

Ms. Brown is a certified family law specialist and joined the California Bar in 2000. She is a Lead Attorney at Cage & Miles, LLP in San Diego.

"I appreciate the faith the practice group has in me. To be the president of this group is a major honor. I joined Collaborative Practice San Diego to learn and to contribute to the collaborative divorce field. When I first joined, I never thought I might some day serve as the president," she said. "I appreciate the leadership the past presidents have shown and I look forward to using what I learned from them to make our group even better."

Attorney Myra Chack Fleischer is the president-elect and will take over in 2023. She is a family practice and tax attorney. As president-elect, she will help Ms. Brown guide the organization in the coming year.

"I look forward to working with Liz. Despite being a past president of the group, I know I will learn things that will help me when I take over as president," she said. "Together we will look for ways to continue improving Collaborative Practice San Diego."

Treasurer is Ginita Wall, CPA, CDFA and CFP. As treasurer, Ms. Wall is responsible for keeping the books in order and updating the Board on the finances.

Barry P. Levine is the secretary. Mr. Levine is a CDFA, CFP , CLU and ChFC. He will take minutes, handle some of the correspondence and assist the Executive Board in their duties.

Cinda Jones was elected Board Member at large. Ms. Jones is a CFP and CDFA. Shawn Skillin, an attorney and mediator, was also elected Board Member at large.

These Board members are joined by past president Leslie Ryland is a certified family law specialist.

"Past presidents have done so much to improve family law and collaborative divorce. They have improved our organization tremendously. I am glad they continue to be active with our group because their advice and insight are invaluable," Ms. Brown said.
